29.1.2001	Mr.Mukesh Shrivastava, learned counsel for the petitioner. Mr.Ranveer Singh GA for respondent No.5 The impugned order was issued by the Deputy Registrar, Co-operative Society, on 31.1.2000. The said order is appellable before the Joint Registrar and it is stated at the Bar by the Advocate General, that there is yet another revisional remedy i.e. the Co-operative Tribunal where the petitioner can approach. The reason why the petitioner has approached this court, it is stated to be that he has no confidence in the fairness of the appellate authority. This can not be a reason to approach this Court. The petitioner must approach the proper appellate authority ~~In view of the order stated above~~ In this view of the matter, I am not inclined to accept this petition in exercise of the jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. The petitionm is rejected. However, it would be fair to say that if petitioner approaches the proper forum within one month from today, question of ~~appeal~~ delay shall not stand in the way.
